Earn Your Master's Degree

Saint Leo University is a nationally recognized leader in education. As one of the first M.Ed. Educational Leadership programs to be approved by the State Department of Education in 2002, Saint Leo serves as a model for educational leadership in the State of Florida.

Become a visionary school leader and community collaborator

In partnership with The North East Florida Educational Consortium (NEFEC), Saint Leo University is pleased to offer a Florida state-approved Master of Education in Educational Leadership degree program to prepare students for advanced careers as assistant principals, principals and administrators.

M.Ed. in Educational Leadership

Saint Leo University's Florida state-approved M.Ed. Educational Leadership program is designed for teachers holding a K-12 certification, who can complete the Practicum in the state of Florida, and who seek Level 1 Educational Leadership Certification.

Choose Your Learning Environment

Face-To-Face Cohort

Join a local cohort that combines traditional, face-to-face classes—with a variety of delivery formats, including online options, video conferencing and field experiences.

Online

This innovative, blended-online Master's degree program utilizes the latest in internet technology, including: discussion groups, interactive learning strategies and video clips to allow students to effectively earn a graduate degree. To enhance the online experience, most classes will require field work.

Once you compare tuition rates, you'll feel smarter just for enrolling at Saint Leo.
